

OCTOBER 2010

Looking for an opportunity to network with other maritime safety professionals and hear the latest safety trends from the experts in the marine industry? Then make plans to attend the AEU Safety Committee in Seattle October 6 - 7!

AEU Safety Committee Meeting Discussion Topics

Full Committee Topics:

- Coaching and Counseling Skills: Fundamental to an Effective Safety Program
- Behavior Safety Systems
- New Employee Orientation
- Recent OSHA Investigation Findings
- Member Safety Program Review
- Relevant Issues Regarding the Longshore Act
- MACOSH update
- Tool Box Safety Talks
- Shipyard and Marine Cargo Handling Subcommittees

Who Should Attend

AEU Brokers and members of the American Longshore Mutual Association, Ltd. (ALMA) are encouraged to send safety managers, foremen, superintendents, leadmen and yard managers.

The AEU Safety Committee meetings consist of a day and a half of in depth discussion of up-to-the minute safety issues facing shipyards, marine terminals and longshoring operations. Attendees will have an opportunity to learn from other successful safety managers and hear about new ideas in accident prevention in the industries covered by the Longshore and Harborworkers Compensation Act.
